THE STORY OF THIS WINE

The Den is where it starts. In the heart of the African bush, the den is more than a shelter, it is the hub of the pack. These wines are spirited, social, and best enjoyed with good company. They are unpretentious and simply delicious, providing a soft, juicy backdrop to the stories and laughs that happen when you finally retreat to your own den at the end of the day. It is the perfect place to begin if you are new to Painted Wolf Wines

WINEMAKING

Great care was taken to ensure that the grapes were picked at the correct time, and they received the best possible attention being blanketed with CO_2 throughout the crushing and pressing process. This wine was fermented using wild yeast in stainless steel tanks, it then matured in these tanks for 5 months with stirring of the lees being performed once a month.
